This suggestion was send out three weeks before the meeting. With knowledge and agreement of America the rule was changed. There was a dissenting vote and an abstention.
Rulechange with the benchpress -WUAP: After receiving the bar at arms length, the lifter shall lower the bar to the chest and await the head referee's signal. (the sentence with „not lower as the sternum“ is cancelled).
On it one made attentive:
Shirt: It must have the manufacturer's original and true collar in place and not be excessively loose or widely open. The back of the shirt must be closed, either with standard shirt material as part of the singular shirt construction or with the appropriate Velcro closure.

- 3) World Championships 2008 goes to Germany (Meinhard Schröder) – unanimously
